Bangalore

Bangalore is the principal administrative, commercial and industrial centre of Karnataka State. Situated in the south eastern quadrant of the State at 12° 8' north latitude and 77° 37' longitude at an altitude of 920 metres (3021 feet) above sea level, the City covers an area of about 400 square kilometres, including numerous extensions spread out in different directions of the city. It is a cosmopolitan city where people following different religious faiths, speaking different languages, live.

History:

Bangalore was founded by Kempe Gowda-1 in 1537 A.D. He erected a strong mud fort and constructed Gavi Gangadhareswara temple at Gavipuram and Basava Temple at Basavanagudi. He predicted a great future for the town and actually built four watch-towers at four elevated points around the town prophesying the extent to which the City would grow. The City has grown far beyond the limits visualised by him. The four watch towers constructed by him can be seen even today (1) near Ulsoor tank (2) Bellary Road near Mekhri Circle (3) near Lalbagh (4) near Gavi Gangadhareswara temple, Basavanagudi.

Population:

The increase in population of Bangalore is very rapid since 1955. From 10 lakhs in 1955, it went up to 20 lakhs in 1970 and it is estimated to have crossed 50 lakhs today.

Climate:

Bangalore is endowed by nature with a very salubrious and equable climate. The mean temperature in the warmest month (April) is 27.1° C (80.8 F) and in the coldest month (January) it is 20.48°C (68.8 F). The maximum temperature during the day rarely exceeds 34°C (93.8 F) in summer (April-May) and the minimum seldom falls below 15.5° C (60 F) on winter nights (December-February). The atmosphere is neither too humid nor too dry.

Rainfall:

Bangalore receives the benefit of the South West and North East monsoons. The average annual rainfall is 87 centimetres. October and November are rainy months but the downpour during these months is only about 17 cms. December to March is practically dry.

City Administration:

The administration of the city vests with the Corporation of the City of Bangalore which was constituted under the City of Bangalore Corporation Act LXIX of 1949.

Languages Spoken:

The main languages spoken are Kannada 31%, Tamil 27%, Telugu 17%, Hindustani/Urdu 15%, other languages 10%

Electricity:

Supply of electricity for industrial use is made at 400 volts, 50 cycles, 3 phase (4 wire system), while for domestic use it is supplied at 230 volts, 50 cycles, single phase.

Water Supply:

The Bangalore Water Supply and Sewerage Board controls water supply in the city from the existing sources, viz Chamaraja Sagar Water Works at Thippagondanahalli, Water Works at Hessarghatta and Kaveri River Project.

Education:

Bangalore is a great educational centre. It is the seat of a number of national institutions like the Indian Institute of Science, Raman's Institute, the All-India Institute of Mental Health, University of Agricultural sciences, in addition to numerous occupational, professional and general colleges, technological Institutes and schools.

Industries:

Bangalore has made rapid progress in industrial development. There are many large medium and small-scale industrial concerns in and around Bangalore producing a variety of items. The number of electronic equipment manufacturing units has gone up. Garments manufacture is another important industry developing in Bangalore. The industrial development has naturally catalysed the commercial activity.

Transport:

The Bangalore Transport Service (B.T.S) buses ply on different routes intersecting the city. Suburban bus service connects the city with a number of villages and towns situated at short distances from the city.

Karnataka State Road Transport Corporation (KSRTC) bus service connects many towns within and outside the State.

A good number of private buses operate from Kalasipalayam Bus Stand near the City Market and also from Dhanvantry Road (Tank Bund Road) near the Bangalore Bus Station.

The Karnataka State Tourism Development Corporation, 10/4, Kasturba Road, Bangalore-1 (Phone 2212901) conducts tours to places of interest in Karnataka. Several authorised travel agencies also arrange conducted tours and Bangalore sight-seeing trips.

Taxis and autorickshaws are available for quick and easy transport within the city.

Medical aid:

In respect of medical treatment, Bangalore commands good facilities. A list of Government and private hospitals and nursing homes is given in the General Information Section of this Guide.

Milk supply:

Milk Supply in Bangalore is supplemented by the Bangalore Dairy, situated on the Hosur Road, through retail selling agencies and automatic milk vending machines installed in most parts of the City. It is managed by the Federation of Bangalore City and Rural Districts Co-operative Milk Producers Union.

Cultural Activities:

Bangalore is an important centre for cultural, religious and social activities. Some institutions arrange periodical exhibitions, recitals, drama, music and dance performances, lectures, symposia and group discussions that entertain and educate. Some of the daily programmes appear. 'In the City To-day' in Deccan Herald, Indian Express, The Hindu, The Times of India and some Kannada dailies.

Every Friday evenings (6.30 p.m) cultural programmes are arranged at 'Yuvanika' State Youth Centre, Nrupathunga Road, Bangalore-1, Phone 2214911.

Progressive Bangalore:

Bangalore, the fifth largest City in India, has been classified as 'A' class city. The growth of the City has been phenomenal in recent years, largely due to unprecedented industrial progress with the establishment of many large, medium and small scale industries and technical and professional institutions of national importance. The industrial development at Hosur in Tamil Nadu near Bangalore and also suburban areas has also contributed to the growth of Bangalore.

"But those who want to deny His existence are at liberty to do so. He is merciful, and compassionate. He is not an earthly king needing an army to make us accept His sway. He allows us freedom, and yet His compassion commands obedience to His will. But if any one of us disdain to bow to His will, He says: 'So be it. My sun will shine no less for thee, my clouds will rain no less for thee. I need not force thee to accept my sway. Of such a God, let the ignorant dispute the existence. I am one of the millions of wise men who believe in Him and am never tired of bowing to Him and singing His glory.
